NAVIGATING THE NDIS

What's Changed to the National Disability Insurance Scheme (NDIS) ? From October 3, 2024. NDIS is moving towards providing participants and their families with more clarity regarding what will and will not be funded. The aim is to help the scheme get back on track to restore NDIS to its original intent and deliver better outcomes for Australians.

Claiming NDIS for Bus Stop Films

1. Ensure that you are seeking funding from under Group Activities - Social and Community Participation and/or Finding and Keeping a Job

2. Link the Program to your specific goals. You do not need to request for funding for Bus Stop Films Program specifically, it is just about ensuring that the full year fee of $10,500 is covered within the appropriate line item.

3. Utilise our NDIS Quote letter and if you are a returning participant, utilise our Progress Reports to help facilitate your conversations with Plan Managers.

Preparing for your conversation with the Plan Managers, LACs and Support Coordinators

How could the Program link to your goals?

- Increase my social skills
- Expand and grow my social networks
- Increase my social participation in the community
- Increase my work skills and job readiness
- Expand my individual skill development in community
- Participation in group based supports to reduce social isolation

How to be clear about what the Program is.

The Accessible Filmmaking Program is uniquely designed to bring participants together over a common shared interest of Filmmaking through a Community Arts initiative for people with intellectual disability or autism. Bus Stop Films is not a registered training provider nor is the Program a formal education program,

The Impact of the Program on our Participants

“Our daughter has been with Bus Stop for three years now. Through her time in the program we’ve seen not only her skills and knowledge of the film industry improve, but also her confidence and her ability to interact with others along with her willingness to step up and take on responsibilities. We’ve also seen first hand similar improvements with many of her classmates – so the program is obviously doing something right.”

100% of participants said the Program helped them make friends.

90% of participants said they loved the hands on practical experience.

More than 70% of our participants said they saw improvements in:

- Time management
- Confidence
- Problem Solving and
- Work ready skills
